

Consider Pool, Gym As War Memorials

Trend Is Away From Monuments And Plaques

A swimming pool, an enlarged community house, a gymnasium and a library building are some of the projects being discussed in Narberth as suitable projects for a war memorial.

This was revealed this week in interviews with borough organization representatives who will make up a Community War Memorial Committee formed for the purpose of selecting and furthering the project.

The trend of opinion was definitely away from stone monuments and ornamental plaques was indicated by those interviewed. Virtually all of them indicated they would like to see a memorial of some recreational or cultural need in the lives of returning veterans as well as perpetuate, in a useful memorial, the memory of those who have died in the service.

What kind of a memorial is best suited to Narberth will be one of the first things to be decided by the Community War Memorial Committee.

Invitations to join the committee were sent out last week by Clarence M. Belz, commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion.

The Post's honor roll committee has been compiling a record of men and women from Narberth and vicinity who are in the service. So far they have a list of about 600 names. Members of this honor roll committee are Douglas C. Miner, chairman, William H. Durbin and Henry A. Frye.

The following organizations have been invited by the Legion to join with them in the project and appoint representatives who will sit on the Community War Memorial Committee:

Narberth Borough Council, Women's Community Club, Junior Community Club, Narberth Red Cross, American Legion Auxiliary, Narberth Baseball Club, Narberth Mulieres, Narberth Fire Company, Italian American Club, Narberth Business Men's Association, Narberth Volunteer Medical Corps and Narberth Boys Club.

HERE AND THERE

by BETSY-ANN

Quite a snowfall we had last Tuesday. Snow fell all day, transforming the countryside into a veritable fairytale. Schools dismissed at one o'clock and Philadelphia and suburban offices and department stores closed at four to avoid a possible traffic tie-up. Snow plows were seen in the "Village" for the first time in three years.

Although driving was bad and many cars had to be dug out and pushed, most everyone enjoyed the beauty of the snow.

The Narberth branch of the Red Cross, which meets Monday through Friday in the Fire House, from nine until four, also Tuesday evenings, is badly in need of volunteers to wrap bandages. Their quota runs into the millions and must be ready by March 1st. With all our wounded being sent back to this country, bandages are greatly in demand—won't you help?

The garbage collectors reported to the Borough Office that sunk-in garbage cans could not be reached, and other cans could not be emptied because contents were frozen. When weather breaks, garbage collections will continue.

In South Pacific

JAMES W. MAXINOW
Storekeeper 1/c Maxinow, USCGC son of Mrs. D. Maxinow, of Narberth, is stationed aboard a Coast Guard-manned LST in the South Pacific. Serving in combat waters, his ship ferries men and supplies to island points. His wife, the former Josephine Banek, and their son, Donald, 13, are living at Edmondson, Md. Prior to enlisting in September, 1942, he was employed as a salesman.

Raps Policing of City Line Avenue

Chief Will Raise Lighting at Place Where Two Died

Frederick Lysle, chief of Philadelphia's Bureau of Lighting and Gas is going to increase the lighting at the City Line Ave. intersection where two fatal accidents occurred but he is doubtful if this will be of much help.

The request to raise the lighting at City Line Ave. and 59th St. (Raynham Rd.) in the Lower Merion Township side) was passed along by Chief Lysle from Superintendent of Police Samuel Gearhart in Lower Merion.

Curtis Walker, Philadelphia, was killed at the intersection on December 26 and James O'Donnell, Philadelphia, was killed on November 24. Walker, a bartender employed at a City Line Ave. tavern, had alighted from a bus and was crossing the street to catch another bus when he was struck by a truck which was behind his truck when he was hit.

Chief Lysle has agreed to raise the overhead intersection lighting from 2500 to 6000 lumens. The lighting standard is on the Philadelphia side so the city will make the installation and the Township will pay half the cost.

Chief Lysle thinks it is reasonable and not lighting which makes City Line Ave. hazardous for pedestrians and motorists.

Under the present agreement for the operation of City Line Ave. the thoroughfare is supposed to be policed by Lower Merion Township and the State Highway Police.

Lysle, who travels the highway every day, thinks that this division authority works against proper policing. He said no one takes responsibility and there is a tendency to "pass the buck" to the other fellow.

Philip Minnis, Lower Merion police traffic specialist, says that speeding did not enter into either of the accidents at this intersection. Minnis said it would be a good idea if stop-and-go traffic lights were installed at the intersection.

Asked about traffic lights Chief Lysle said that it would be almost impossible to get the equipment for the lights under wartime restrictions. Even if OPA restrictions were lifted, he said, it would be a question whether the lights should be installed at City Line Ave. and 59th St. or some other more dangerous intersection.

50 at Party For War Chest Workers

921 Subscriptions Totaled $6350 In Drive

Fifty persons attended a party for Narberth War Chest workers last Friday night at the Narberth Community Club.

The affair was arranged by Mrs. Lewis C. Crater, Narberth War Chest director, in appreciation of the work done by the Narberth group during the recent campaign.

Mrs. Crater announced that 921 subscriptions were received, totaling $6,350.46, which amounted to 113.4 per cent of Narberth's quota. Sixteen per cent more money was received with only one per cent more subscribers than in the previous War Chest campaign.

The evening's program included square dances led by Mrs. Ellisworth B. Clark with accordion music by Angelo Celluci, a story by Mrs. Katherine Bennett and songs by Jane Reed of WCAU. Refreshments were served.

Infantile Paralysis Fund Raising Appeal Opens In County

The 1945 fund raising appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was opened officially on Sunday.

The appeal will continue through January 31, and is the 12th annual campaign in the war against Infantile Paralysis, campaign chairman Raymond K. Mensch, of the Montgomery County Chapter, Norristown, said in announcing plans for Montgomery County's participation.

"Last year," Chairman Mensch said, "America sustained the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis ever to hit the nation in the history of the disease. More than 18,000 people were stricken and many of the 1944's victims will require medical care and treatment for a long period of time. In Montgomery County alone there were 55 new cases reported."

Officer Veteran of World War 1 and 2 Debate Universal Military Training

Ex-GOP Chairman Says Only Way To Assure Preparedness

Principal Suggests Large Regular Army Instead

Lieutenant Colonel Jay Cooke, former Republican city chairman of Philadelphia, who recently returned from France where he was wounded in action and George H. Gilbert, principal of Lower Merion Senior High School discussed universal military training at a meeting of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women, Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Owen J. Toland, Wynnewood.

Colonel Cooke who is national director of the Citizens Committee for Universal Military Training, an organization formed last month to seek a continuous year of military training after the war for high school graduates 18 years of age, stated that "there are only two ways to insure preparedness for this country as protection against aggression by any nation or combination of nations."

"The first is by the maintenance of a large regular army and navy; the second and more American way is through a small, highly trained regular establishment with a large pool of trained man power which may be called on for immediate service in emergencies."

Stressing the difference between conscription for service and universal military training, Cooke then outlined the proposed plan as follows:

"On graduation from high school or preparatory school a young man will immediately take his one year of military training. If he does not go to high school he will take the training after he reaches his seventeenth birthday. At the end of the year he is finished, but if he wants to qualify for higher rank the R. O. T. C. and Officer's Training School will be maintained also before a boy can enter Annapolis or West Point he must have this year of training."

Colonel Cooke also declared that in careful polls taken in all the theatres of war 65-69% of the people in the army and navy are in favor of universal military training. A poll of navy men has not as yet been taken.

Emphasizing that the security of the nation depends on having a large pool of trained man power, Cooke asserted that "every year about 800,000 young men would reach the age and be physically qualified for service and at the end of five years there would be four million trained men available in case of national emergency."

Prisoners of War To Be Used Here

Union Must Be Consulted; Transportation Arranged

Prisoners of war will be used within the near future to help break the bottleneck for male laborers in industrial plants of Montgomery County.

That was revealed last week when the United States Employment Service and War Manpower Commission office began contacting various industries as to the possible use of such labor in this area.

It was disclosed that a prisoner of war camp will be opened at Bristol, Bucks County, and that military prisoners placed there will be available for work in this area with the only problem involved being that of transportation and from the camp.

However, the placing of these workers for common laboring in work units in the area is a simple matter as certain conditions must be met and their use will naturally be within certain limitations. If plants are unionized the unions must be consulted for their approval. The men also must be given work in which they can be kept together and segregated from the regular employees.

Elect Officers For Children's Aid Society of County

The board of directors of the Children's Aid Society of Montgomery County met in Norristown on January 15.

Following the monthly meeting, Mrs. Ramsey McKim, Jr., of Philadelphia, was elected president of the board. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Lewis C. Dick, first vice president; Mrs. Jesse R. Evans, second vice president; Mrs. Russell Crawford, secretary; Mrs. Dewitt Pugh, treasurer.

This past year the Society cared for 371 medical examinations and 49 eye examinations—36 psychological tests were made. The six staff visitors made 4,233 visits to foster homes.

Prayer Brought Quadruplet Parents To Broomall Home Says Haverford Realtor

Prayer brought the Upper Darby parents of quadruplets to the single home they have purchased at 25 School House Lane, Broomall, according to Alexander O. Dunlap, Philadelphia realtor, who sold them the property.

Agreements of sale were signed by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cirimello, on January 11 and approved by the former owners, the Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur P. McCullough on January 12. The real estate firm that negotiated the sale is H. S. Dunlap Sons, 5554 Market St., Philadelphia.

Dunlap lives in Haverford Township at 1433 Delmont Ave. Beechwood, near the Lower Merion Township boundary line. He is a member of numerous religious organizations and member of the Council of the Beechwood Community Church and superintendent of the Church Bible School. The other member of the Dunlap firm, H. Creighton Dunlap is serving full time as an evangelist.

In a news release from the Dunlap office the chain of events through which the sale was consummated are described as follows:

"Learning of the parents need for a four-bedroom home with one bedroom large enough to accommodate the four cribs, Mr. Alexander O. Dunlap, one of the partners of the firm, wrote to Mr. Cirimello on January 3rd and offered to drive the couple to the home the following day. Mr. and Mrs. Cirimello appeared in the office Thursday afternoon and were driven by Dunlap to the property. There followed several days of anxiety, as another couple had already given the Dunlap office a deposit subject to final measurement of the dining room, and in addition there was a question as to whether or not a deposit given by the Cirimellos on another Upper Darby home could be returned to them. Mr. Dunlap had suggested to the Cirimellos that the only solution to their

To Be Honored

LOUIS A. YOUNG
Narberth Borough councilman is one of the eight prominent graduates whom the University of Pennsylvania Alumni will honor on Founders Day.

Young To Receive Award of Merit

To Be Presented At University On Founder's Day

Louis A. Young, Councilman of Narberth and former head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania, will be among eight prominent graduates of the University of Pennsylvania who will receive Alumni Awards of Merit from the University's General Alumni Society on Saturday.

Awards will be presented during Founder's Day exercises which will be held in Houston Hall at the University in memory of Benjamin Franklin, founder of the University. Ceremonies, beginning at 2 P. M., will be preceded by a buffet luncheon in Houston Hall.

Young, who lives at 410 Grove Place, was graduated from the Towne Scientific School of Pennsylvania with the degree of bachelor of science in civil engineering and is now a widely known engineering executive. He is being honored for "outstanding service to the University of Pennsylvania in the recent past."

The new president of the alumni Class of 1914 and vice-president of the Varsity Club, Young was head football coach at Pennsylvania from 1923 to 1929. Before heading the coaching staff he served on the advisory coaching staff for several years and was coach of the freshman eleven for a year.

While an undergraduate at the University he played on the Varsity for three seasons, captaining the team and playing fullback during his last year.

In addition to Young, the recipients of the Alumni Awards of Merit at Founder's Day will be Dr. Zachary T. Jackaway, Colonel William S. Middleton, James C. Patterson, Colonel I. S. Ravdin, Thomas B. K. Ringe, Edward R. Snyder and Dr. Cornelius Weyand.

Chief Justice George W. Maxey, of the State Supreme Court, and Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University, will be the speakers.

Addresses will be made by Dr. Thomas S. Gates, chairman of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. George William McClelland, who succeeded Dr. Gates as president of the University in July.

To Observe Public Health Nurse Day

Surgeon General Sends Message Setting Aside Day

"Know Your Public Health Nurse—Who She Is—What She Does" is the slogan of National Public Health Nursing Day which will be observed on January 26.

In a message setting this day aside, Dr. Thomas S. Gates, chairman of the United States Public Health Service, made the following statement:

"Public health nursing is very largely a 20th century development. During the past 20 years the number of public health nurses has increased from 3,000 to more than 20,000 until today they outnumber any other professional group in the health field. Yet, if total nursing needs in this country are to be met, three times as many public health nurses must be made available in the post-war period."

"That there is a gap in understanding between what the public health nurse does and what the community thinks she does was indicated in an informal poll of citizens recently made in several cities and towns. Of one thousand volunteers interviewed by the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office, only one large city, only fifty had ever heard of the public health nurse."

Take 2nd Place In Membership Drive

Ellen A. Dietrich Elected Secretary Of Federation

When the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs turned over its 1944 per capita tax to the Southeastern Division of the State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at the semi-annual meeting of the latter organization last Sunday in Norristown, it was learned that the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club held second place in membership among the 17 member clubs of the Montgomery federation.

On the following evening, at the quarterly meeting of the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs held in the Valley Forge Hotel in Norristown, officers of the County federation reported that the membership of the entire County group had increased 50 per cent over its membership of this time last year, setting a new record high for the County of 2,700 sportsmen in organized clubs.

During the past year the Lower Merionites had doubled their paid membership from the preceding year and a number of other clubs of the County unit had also put forth concerted effort through membership campaigns to bring in new members.

This success, despite all present-day handicaps, was most commendable achievement, said William J. Stoneback, Lansdale, following his re-election last Monday evening as president of the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

"Due to the current gasoline shortage, entry of members into the armed forces of our County, heavy war work schedules of those at home, and numerous other existing obstacles, many sportsmen's groups have had great difficulty in holding regular meetings."

Other officers re-elected to the County Federation last Monday evening were as follows:

First Vice-President—J. Russell Moyers, Ambler.

Second Vice-President—Roger Lauman, East Greenville.

Secretary and Publicity—Mrs. Ellen A. Dietrich, Upper Darby.

Treasurer—William Ellis, Bridgeport.

Supervisor of Game Bird Propagation—J. J. Mills, Graterford.

Non-Commissioned Officers Never Become Hardened to Men's Death; Try to Save Green Troops

By ERNIE FYLE

IN ITALY—If you ever heard a dive bombing by our A-36 Invader planes you'd never forget it.

Even in normal flight this plane makes a sort of screaming noise, and when that is multiplied many-fold by the velocity of the dive you can hear the wail for miles.

On the ground it sounds as though they are coming directly down upon you. It is a horrifying thing. The German Stuka could never touch them for sheer frightfulness of sound.

The German plane has always dived at an angle. But these planes come literally straight down. If you look up and see one a mile above you, you can't tell where it's headed. It could strike anywhere within a mile or any side of you. That's the reason it spreads its terror so wide.

But our pilots have to hand it to the Germans on the ground. They have steeled themselves to stand by their guns and keep shooting. Pilots say the Italians would shoot until the bombs were almost upon them, then dive for their foxholes, and then come out and start shooting again after the bombs had exploded. But not the Germans—they stick to their guns.

Maj. Ed Bland, a squadron leader, was taking me about combat suddenly over a hilltop one day and finding a German truck right in his gun sights.

Now it's the natural human impulse, when you see a plane come upon you, to dive for the ditches. But the German gunner in this started shooting at Bland. German and American tracer bullets were streaming back and forth in the same groove in opposite directions, almost hitting each other. The German never stopped firing until Bland's six machine guns suddenly chucked the truck into complete disintegration.

Our dive bombers don't have much trouble with German fighters. The reason our sev-

Slight Increases for Policeman and Laborer Reported

Tax Rate Remains At Seventeen Mills

Narberth Borough councilmen have passed on final reading a budget of more than $100,000 with a cash reserve in the highway appropriation that can be used in case the war ends and long-delayed improvements are possible.

The budget passed amounts to $103,591.30 in estimated expenditures for 1945. This compares to actual expenditures of $87,184.60 in 1944.

Councilmen at the same time held their tax rate at 17 mills for the year.

The difference between what they intend to spend and what they spent last year is accounted for in the accumulation of a cash balance because they had neither the men or materials to make highway, sewer and other improvements.

For example, for two years, 1943 and 1944, they appropriated the sum of $6822 as the Borough's share in county-aid projects. As Montgomery County was forced to discontinue the county-aid program the amount of $13,644 has accumulated and this represents the greater part of the cash balance.

Actually they wound-up last year's financing with a cash balance hold-over of $23,827, which includes the $13,644.

In the corresponding items of the budget there is little change either in increases or decreases as compared to last year.

There is a slight increase in the police and highway appropriations because the Borough was able to raise the rate on the police laborers. The big difference in the comparative items, of course, is in the highway appropriation where the cash reserve is being held for future improvements.

Although the wartime State law permits municipalities to set up postwar funds the councilmen believed that a cash reserve in the highway appropriations would be more flexible.
